Article 1

Announcement

Luiss Libera Università Internazionale degli Studi Sociali Guido Carli (hereinafter the “University” or “Luiss Guido Carli”) hereby announces pursuant to article 18, paragraph 4-ter, of Law No. 240 of December 30, 2010, and in the manner laid down in the Luiss Guido Carli Regulations on the procedure for the recruitment of first-level and second-level professors in implementation of Articles 7, 18 and 24 of Law No. 240 of 30 December 2010 and Articles 1 (9) and 1 (12) of Law No. 230 of 4 November 2005 in force (hereinafter the “Regulations”) – a selection procedure for the recruitment of a tenured professor with the following characteristics:

- number of positions: one;
- Full Professor;
- Department of Law;
- academic-discipline group (GSD) 12/GIUR-06 –Administrative and Public Law;
- academic-discipline field (SSD) GIUR-06/A –Administrative and Public Law;
- competition code (codice concorso) GIUR-ORD20%-21/2024;
- specific functions: the successful candidate will be employed at the Department of Law. The selected professor will carry out teaching and research activities consistent with his/her academic-discipline field and in harmony with the main research lines of the University, its Research Centers, and the Schools, related to Administrative and Public Law. He/she should be able to conduct lectures in Italian and in English on Administrative and Public Law topics. The candidate will be expected to promote research projects both nationally and internationally. In particular, the specific functions will have to cover the following topics:
  - for the scientific research activity, the candidate will need to develop scientific products and promote research projects in their academic-discipline field on administrative and public law topics related to technological innovation and sustainability, which are the main pillars of the Department and the University's scientific research; in particular, research activities should be developed in the area of public procurement and public-private partnerships and in the area of local government and urban law, especially with regard to smart cities;
  - for the teaching activity, the candidate will need to deliver courses in English in undergraduate and postgraduate programs, with particular reference to the undergraduate program in Global Law, in mandatory and/or elective courses that are also related to technological innovation and sustainability; with particular regard to the following thematic areas: principles of administrative and public law; services of general economic interest; public procurement and public-private partnerships; legal regulation of public goods, with specific reference to common goods.
- The remuneration that the winner of the selection will be entitled to under article 8 of Law No. 240/2010 and Presidential Decree No. 232 of December 15, 2011, is that applicable to Full Professors depending on the career position of the winner and the relevant commitment chosen.

Article 2

Requisites for the Submission of Applications and Exclusions

The selection is open to candidates who have obtained national eligibility pursuant to article 16 of Law No. 240/2010 for the academic competition field or for one of the academic competition fields within the same group of academic competition fields and for the functions that the procedure concerns but who are not already working as full professor in Italy or abroad with an equivalent role.

The candidates should be able to teach courses and write journal articles also in English.

The qualifications must be held on the date that the competition closes.

The procedure for the awarding of the contract referred to in this announcement is not open to those who are related, by blood or marriage up to the fourth degree inclusive, to a first or second level professor at the Department in question, the Rector, the General Manager or a member of the University's Board of Directors.

Applications

Applications to participate in the public selection procedure as well as qualifications held and documents and publications considered useful for the selection procedure must, on pain of exclusion, be submitted electronically using the dedicated computerized platform on the following page of the University's website: <https://pica.cineca.it/luiss/giur-ord20-21-2024/domande>

The platform will necessarily require candidates to have an e-mail address in order to be able to register automatically with the system. The candidate must enter all the required data to generate their application and attach soft copies of the documents referred to in this announcement. No other form of submitting applications or documentation with a view to participating in the selection will be accepted. By the deadline for the submission of applications, the system allows candidates to save their application in draft mode. The date of electronic submission of the actual application for participation in the selection is certified by the computer system through a receipt that will automatically be sent by e-mail. Upon expiry of the deadline for submission, the system will no longer allow access to and submission of the electronic application form. Applications received after the deadline will not be accepted.

Each application will be assigned an identification number that, together with the competition code specified on the platform, will have to be specified in any subsequent correspondence.

The process for filling out and submitting applications must be completed no later than 2 p.m. Central European Summer Time (CEST) on thirty day running from the day after the date of publication of the Notice regarding this announcement in the Official Journal of the Italian Republic - 4th special series. If the stated deadline falls on a public holiday, it is extended to the next business day.

The submission of the application must be formally completed by choosing one of methods of signature set out in the "digital signature" page of the dedicated platform.

The service may be temporarily suspended for technical reasons.

Should the computer systems adopted by the University suffer a proven technical glitch making submission of applications impossible through the platform, the University reserves the right to accept applications in ways other than that indicated in the previous paragraphs.

To report solely technical problems, please write to the following e-mail address: luiss@cineca.it

In their application, candidates will have to declare under their own responsibility:

- department, academic-discipline group, academic-discipline field of the selection procedure;
- surname and name;
- gender;
- place and date of birth;
- residence;
- nationality;
- contact address for the purposes of the competition;
- tax number (solely for Italian residents);
- e-mail address for the purposes of the competition;
- telephone number;
- university qualifications held (degree, research doctorate);
- fulfilment of the requisites referred to in article 2 above;
- that they have no prior criminal record;
- that they enjoy their civil and political rights in their country of residence or origin.

Candidates with a recognized disability, pursuant to Law No. 104 of 5 February 1992, must specify in their application the assistance that they will require having regard to their situation as well as the extra time, if any, needed for the interview.

The following must be attached to the application and uploaded to the system:

- a copy of a valid identification document;
- an academic-professional curriculum;
- the academic publications up to a maximum of 15 that candidates intend to rely on for the purposes of the selection procedure.

Each attachment must not exceed 30 megabytes.

Should the candidate submit more than 15 publications and/or works, the extra ones will be excluded from the comparative assessment.

Works published abroad must cite their ISBN or equivalent.

Publications may be submitted in their original language if that is Italian or English. Otherwise they must be translated into one of those said languages. The translation must be submitted along with a copy in the original language.

The Examining Commission shall have the sole say on checking and judging the admissibility of the application and attached documentation.

The official e-mail address of Luiss University for the purposes of this competition is recruiting@luiss.it, except as otherwise provided.

The e-mail address stated in the application and the Luiss Guido Carli website constitute the official means of communication for this selection process and all related matters, except as otherwise provided. Therefore, the candidate is required to consult both communication channels. Luiss University assumes no liability for any inability to contact the candidate or for any correspondence that goes astray as a result of the candidate's giving of an imprecise e-mail address or any problems not attributable to the University itself or in any event attributable to third parties, chance or force majeure.

Article 4

Examining Commission and Selection Procedures

The Commission is appointed by the Department Council and made up of three professors in accordance with the provisions of article 6 of the Regulations.

Should a commission member be replaced during the course of the procedure, everything done up to the time of that replacement shall remain valid and effective pursuant to the principle of conservation of legal acts.

The Commission will appoint one of its number as the Chairperson and another as the Recording Secretary.

The comparative evaluation is informed by the principles of article 7 of the Regulations.

Additional evaluation criteria are:

- commitment to meaningful academic research, in addition to scientific publication consisting of books as well as articles in high-quality national and international academic journals;
- leadership of competitive and funded research projects of international and/or national significance, with particular regard to the role of P.I. in competitive and funded international research projects;
- planning, coordinating, and managing master's degree programs in English on topics related to the call for applications;
- active participation in the academic debate on the most relevant topics in the reference sector (participation at national and international conferences, guest speeches, invitations to present research work in prestigious national and international universities);
- participation in editorial boards of leading national and international journals and the organization of relevant national and international conferences;
- relevant teaching experience, in Italian and in English;
- visiting scholarship, professorship, fellowships in top schools, universities and research institutions;
- qualification according to the average standards required for being selected as members of the selecting commissions in the relevant competition area. Pending the definition of the scientific productivity indicators for the scientific-disciplinary group 12-GIUR/6 Administrative and public law, the indicators for competition sector 12/D1 (i.e., at least 2 books with ISBN, 15 journal articles and book chapters with ISBN in the last 10 years and 2 articles in A-range journals in the last 15 years).

In addition to the candidate's academic prowess the evaluation will also take account of the linguistic skills necessary because of the University's multilingual character and the teaching needs for courses taught in foreign languages. To this end, candidates might be called upon to hold a seminar on a topic of their choice, preferably in English, also in presence of students. The Commission will summon candidates for the holding of the seminar subject to giving them at least 20 calendar days' notice.

The publication of the notice of convocation to the seminar on the Luiss Guido Carli website will have the value of notification for all participants in the competition, without the obligation of any further communication. Notice of the publication may also be given to the e-mail address indicated by the candidates in the application. Luiss Guido Carli assumes no responsibility for non-receipt or non-reading of the e-mail. It will, however, be the responsibility of the candidates to keep informed by consulting the website, in the section dedicated to the competition, to find the necessary information.

In case of absence from the seminar, the participant automatically renounces the comparative evaluation.

At the end of the proceedings the Commission will come to an overall judgment on each candidate and will compile a ranking to be sent to the Department Board.

Article 5

Duration of Selection Process

The Commission will conclude its work within four months after its appointment. The Rector may extend once and by two months at most the deadline for the conclusion of the procedure for stated reasons given by the Commission Chairperson.

Taking account of the Commission's judgment, teaching needs and the profile and functions specified in the announcement, the Department Board will establish, by reasoned and favourable vote of the absolute majority of first-level professors for the recruitment of first-level professors and absolute majority of first and second level professors for the recruitment of second-level professors, a ranking of names for submission to the Rector. On the basis of the deliberations of the Department Board, the Rector will make a proposal to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee will decide on the recruitment. The Rector will issue a decree recruiting the professor.
